Play is essential to development because it contributes to the cognitive, physical, social, and emotional well-being of children and youth. Play also offers an ideal opportunity for parents to engage fully with their children. Despite the benefits derived from play for both children and parents, time for free play has been markedly reduced for some children.

The Importance of Play in Promoting Healthy Child

The fallout from these high-risk investigations has been explosive. Perpetrators have been jailed and more face prosecution. Dozens of trainers have been suspended or banned from the industry for life. Governments launched inquiries, sponsors backed out and greyhound racing has been overhauled nationally.
